

Using LASER Qualifications for 2016-17

For 2016-17 colleges can use a much wider range of LASER qualifications and units to support the needs of learners. The Skills Funding Agency has removed many of the restrictions on which qualifications are fundable as part of the changes to the 2016-17 funding methodology. The new 'Local Flexibility' rules will allow courses to use qualifications and units to enable “colleges and other training organisations more flexibility to respond to the needs of their local area .” (SFA January 2016) from Entry Level to Level 2 as within the redefined 'Adult Education Budget'.

This News Update highlights some of the key qualification areas that LASER can offer to meet the needs of learners for colleges and for training providers.

Examples

Pre-Access Courses:

Use our Skills for Working in Health and Social Care Professions \(QCF\) qualification at Level 2 to form the basis of a 'Pre-Access' course for students seeking to join an Access to HE course. There are units available in study skills, Maths, English and personal development that can be combined with health and social care related units to make a course tailored to meet the needs of students preparing for further study. Combine this with a GCSE in English or Maths and perhaps use the LASER 'Research Skills' qualification to offer a year long programme that will prepare students for successful study on an Access course.

Traineeships:

Choose from a range of units in 'Enhancing Employability' to support a 'Traineeship' programme including units such as; Customer Service Skills, Communicating in a Practical Environment, to customise a course that provides learners with a nationally recognised qualification or units thereof to help them to progress into employment.
